OF NEGRO ASSAULT ON LONELY STREET.

Young Woman Has Thrilling
Struggle With Man in South Connelville.

HER ASSAILANT IS ARRESTED.

W. E. Neil Follows Sissieretta Davis
From Car and Attacks Her Near Marshall's Store—She Escapes in Struggle and Makes Information.

Charged with attempting a criminal assault upon Miss Sissieretta Davis, a reputable young woman of South Connelville, W. E. Neil, a negro, is locked up in the police station awaiting a hearing before Justice of the Peace W. P. Clark this afternoon.

The story Neil's victim told Justice Clark last night while securing a warrant for the arrest of her assailant. She was attacked shortly after leaving a South Connelville car at Marshall's store, but, after being severely beaten, managed to elude the negro's grasp and ran into town to have him arrested.

The negro followed the girl into town but had evidently given up the chase when apprehended, for he was then talking to some white girl on Pittsburg street, near the Wyman hotel, when placed under arrest.

Miss Davis has worked for several years at the home of John Kurtz, corner of Crawford avenue and Pittsburg street. She left this house shortly after dark and took a South Connelville car. The negro had evidently been following her, for he boarded the car and took a seat beside her. It was here that he tried to become familiar with the girl. His language was very indecent. As she left the car at Marshall's store the negro followed her. It was at a dark spot in the street that he again accosted her. She tried to break away but he grabbed her and threw her down. As she attempted to arise he struck a vicious blow, which landed beneath the girl's eye. As she screamed, he struck her again, this time in the mouth, loosening her front teeth.

Fighting like a tigress, and finally wrenching away from his grasp, she started running. He did not attempt to grasp her, for she screamed loudly, but he followed her into town. Miss Davis went immediately to the office of Justice Clark and swore out an information against him. Constable J. W. Mitchell was summoned by telephone and went with the girl in search of her assailant. The man was found but a few steps away and identified. He was placed under arrest and as he was being taken to the police station he pulled out a large stone and attempted to strike the officer.

Ira Gernas saw the negro's move and warned Mitchell just in time to save him from an ugly blow. Officer Howard Anderson assisted Mitchell in taking the negro to the police station where he was locked up. He will be given a hearing at 2 o'clock this afternoon by Justice Clark.

Neil is a barber and has been working in town for several months past. Although not seriously injured as a result of her encounter, Miss Davis is suffering from the shock. Her eye badly discolored and she was bruised about the body by his blows. She has worked at the Kurtz home for several years past and is well known as a girl whose character is beyond reproach. She is about 20 years of age.

New Haven Man Before Burgess this Morning Gets Light Fine After Explaining Situation.

Frank Felix, an Italian of New Haven, was arraigned before Burgess this morning in police court for insulting women on the streets. Felix was charged with improper conduct towards two young ladies of South Connelville, Laura and Jesse McMillan, who appeared in court against the prisoner.

After hearing the evidence Burgess assessed a $10 fine, but later reduced this to $5. The girls alleged that Felix followed them down Main street to the bridge, where he made indecent proposals to them.

Felix denied the charges and told a straight story which the Burgess believed. The prisoner secured the fine from New Haven friends and paid.

Sends Warships to Turkey.

United Press Telegram.
BELGRADE, Oct. 9.—All the army reservists were today ordered to join the colors on Sunday and a declaration of war against Austria will probably be made then. Serbia is clamoring for war, and King Peter, who realizes the influence of a disruption of his kingdom in the event of a conflict, seems powerless to restrain his people. The mobilization of troops is being carried on amid scenes of wildest enthusiasm. Mothers are offering their children to the recruiting stations and wealthy men and women are contributing money and jewels to swell the funds.

England Sends Ships.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—England gave first tangible evidence today of supporting Turkey by ordering the battleships Glory and Prince of Wales and the cruisers Diana and Lancaster to proceed at once from Malta to the island of Lemnos, which is in the Grecian archipelago and belongs to Turkey. England is acting on the representation of Turkey that only the presence of an English fleet can calm the Turkish population and prevent the Empire's spoliation.

TWO FILTERS NOW

Repairs Made to Purifiers But One Is Still Out—Boiled Water Should Be Used.

Announcement was made at noon today that the Connelville Water Company had succeeded in repairing two of their filters and with prudent use of the people of the city may again enjoy filtered water after several days of the Yough variety. The other filter will be repaired and put in commission possibly by Monday.

While the filters will be in use there is still the necessity of boiling the water as the pipes will contain the contaminated river water for a short time.

Since the break in the filter last week workmen have been working night and day on the repairs, which will be finished early next week.

Parade and Music Precede Monster Gathering in People's Hall, Where Issues of Campaign Were Eagerly Listened To.

With people swarming the town from the entire countryside the throng of martial music, the flash of torches, the parading of stately fellows and an enthusiasm of almost unprecendented vehemence, the Republican rally held at Vanderbilt last night, will go down as one of the greatest gatherings, political or otherwise, the town has ever known. People's Hall, where the speaking took place, was entirely inadequate to accommodate the throng and with the building packed almost to enticement many others straggled in through the doors and windows. It was a great night for Republicans and a great night for Vanderbilt. The Republican club of Uniontown and Uniontown in uniform, headed by the Uniontown Drum Corps, paraded through the streets. A large delegation of Vanderbilt Republicans joined the corps and led the marchers over the route of parade. Many residents were brilliantly illuminated for the occasion and the town presented a brilliant appearance. The meeting at the hall was called to order by President Harry Byrnes, who introduced Dr. H. J. Hadden as Chairman of the meeting. Davis W. Henderson was the first speaker. He delivered a splendid address, warning the crowd up, he referred to the baseball situation and then ran down to politics, telling the gathering that there was a momentous question about to be settled by the people and asking that they settle it in a rational, satisfactory way only to themselves, but to the nation. After speaking of national matters for a short time, Mr. Henderson then called attention to the members of the county delegation. All the candidates were arranged on the platform, and as he went over the list pointing out the good qualities of all of them, he was greeted by great applause. "Now, here's Billy McKelvey," he said, "whoever could think of voting against him? Why Billy's one of the best, and most capable men you could possibly find; besides, he is a fellow you could rely on right quick when you come to the court house to do business. And over there is Old Hatch, but I guess everyone knows that man, because he has been connected with business all his life." Thus Mr. Henderson went through the list, and there were "Heads" of all the candidates who cheered lustily. Attorney L. B. Henderson was the next speaker. He called attention to the ever-increasing growth of the country and the always increasing responsibilities, and he advocated the care of the country by a competent set of men, and he believed that the Republican party had men of superior qualifications. Just because in the past several months the county has suffered some financial reverses, he said that it was no reason to believe that it had given on the rocks. All men the speaker said, had their ups and downs, but in life if they did not have them everything would be smooth and easy, but, like the lot of the country, so also was the lot in life. "But," said the speaker, "we had saved what

COMMITTEE BUSY ON POLITICAL MEETING.

Music, Marching and Speeches Included in Program for Connelville Republican Demonstration.

The General Committee on Arrangements appointed by Chairman P. J. Jones for the Republican rally at Connelville, Saturday evening, October 10th, composed of Charles W. Patterson, R. P. Wallace, Colonel J. M. Reed, J. R. Bales, J. H. Kurtz, James S. Dair and H. P. Snyder, met at the Wyman Hotel yesterday afternoon and organized by electing H. P. Snyder, Chairman; H. P. Wallace, Secretary; and J. R. Bales, Treasurer. The committee reported to the members of the committee, who were all present, and they were all in agreement to plan the American flag on these banners.

From the rear of the hall there was a reply from a young man, "I am one." "And would you," said Mr. Cooper, "be one to bear or help bear it down?" To this question the entire hall replied, "No, No." Mr. Cooper referred to a business transaction that took place in his office where a large dealer had agreed to purchase a tract of timber in an adjoining State at a fixed price if the timber was not cut by a certain date. He was to be released and the deal declared off. Mr. Cooper a few days ago was speaking to J. V. Thompson and related the incident to him, and the gentleman told some experiences of his own almost exactly similar.

Mr. Cooper closed his speech with an earnest plea that the voters cast both and D. D. Johnson for the Legislature.

"Now, that's a ticket for you: a ticket all the way through, and a ticket that when you vote for it you will feel proud. Vote for the entire ticket through and through, standing shoulder to shoulder and brooking no outside influences."

James H. Field was the third speaker and dwelt at some length upon Free Trade and the framing of the Wilson Tariff bill in which Mr. Bryan had such a large part. He said that the Nebraska had never denied having said that the American working people were a set of public beggars. Mr. Field alluded to a grotesque Tariff, asking that the American workmen have his factory alongside of his home and not in some foreign land. He declared that with free trade supplies could be purchased cheaper in Europe than in America and the result would be that American workmen would live in the same wretched manner as many of the foreign nations.

Representative Allen F. Cooper was greeted with great applause as he took the platform. He referred briefly to knowing many in the audience at his old home in Franklin township, and this brought to mind a pleasant day that he had spent at the reunion of the old Burma Vista school a few weeks ago. It was his first opportunity, however, to address a political meeting in the town. Mr. Cooper said that he did not care to deal in personalities, and that he would not, he found that the men on all other tickets were good men, but he did not believe in their principles or methods. He spoke of Mr. Taft's eminent qualifications for the office of President, saying that he believed there was no man in public life better fitted for the place than him. He said that he knew Sherman personally, and knew his sterling worth, and he knew that should anything happen to the President that James S. Sherman would take hold of the reins of government and direct the nation. They were two safe men to elect.

Quite a bit of enthusiasm was aroused when Mr. Cooper referred to the Philippines, and said, "Maybe there is some one in this audience who helped to plant the American flag on those shores."

From the rear of the hall there was a reply from a young man, "I am one." "And would you," said Mr. Cooper, "be one to bear or help bear it down?" INSURANCE MEN BALK
AT PAYING COSTS.

Their Attorney Files Deposition Declaring Companies Were Forced to Make Settlement.

UNIONTOWN, Oct. 9.—In opposing the collection of costs by Sheriff M. A. Kleber in the suits of D. J. Johnson and Charles H. Corley against certain insurance companies, Attorney W. K. Jennings of Pittsburg has filed a deposition setting forth his reasons why the costs were paid, although the defendant companies were of opinion that the Sheriff exceeded his authority by serving papers outside the county.

Although the deposition is a lengthy one, it merely charges that those interested in the suits took advantage of the security of currency and practically forced the companies to pay the costs in order to meet their obligations by drafts instead of cash.

Mr. Jennings charges that Attorney W. J. Sturgis, who represented the plaintiffs in the suits, was private attorney for the Sheriff. In his capacity of attorney for the plaintiff, he refused to accept drafts in payment of the indebtedness unless Sheriff Kleber received his costs. As it was practically impossible to pay the verdict in cash, the companies were obliged to settle for costs they deemed unjust.

Richard Davis, formerly of Everett, but now a resident of Brownville, delivered a five-minute talk and was highly cheered. He was twice elected to the Legislature and is quite well known in Vanderbilt and vicinity. He said that there never was a better time, gotten together than the one offered by the Republican party this fall, and he asked for a hearty support.

The gathering had a few minutes to shake hands with the candidate and also to have a word with their friends, and a large number took advantage of this.

MOUNTAIN FLAMES FAST BURNING OUT;
DANGER IS PAST.

Fires Are Now Well Under Control South of Town.

MEN ARE STILL ON WATCH.

Unless Strong Wind Springs Up Fanning Flames They Will Soon Be Extinguished—Slight Drizzle Last Night Helps Situation.

Although a pall of smoke still hangs over the valleys to the south of town the forest fires which raged in the mountains for the past week have about burned themselves out and are now well under control. Efficient work was performed by the fire-fighters Wednesday night, with a consequence that the flames were well under control yesterday and last night there was no need of a large force to battle with them.

Squire S. S. Kern of South Connelville, acting during the absence of the township constable, had two men out all night watching the fire which slowly burned itself out. The men were stationed merely for emergency purposes and had a wind blown up during the night the fire could have gained little headway before the South Connelville citizens were warned.

The men reported this morning that the fire is about out. Further trouble from this source is not anticipated. The little rainfall which fell during the night, for there was a light drizzle for a short time, dampened the weeds and underbrush, and made them less inflammable than before. Only a bad mountain windstorm can renew the danger, and this is not anticipated.

JUSTICES ARE WARNED.

GREENSBURG, Oct. 9.—County Controller John D. Hitchman has issued a note of warning to Justices of the Peace in the county, some of whom are alleged to be using their offices irregularly. The letter sent out yesterday is as follows:

"Some time ago a letter was addressed to all Justices of the Peace of the county, notifying them to have their dockets in condition for an audit by the County Controller. In the performance of the duty of auditing this office has discovered that many of the Justices do not enter upon their dockets a large number of criminal cases brought before them. Therefore, I hereby notify all Justices of the Peace of the county that any negligence of this duty in the future will be referred to the office of the District Attorney for investigation and prosecution."

Eagle School House in Dunbar Township Made Example Of.

Michael Hordash, George Hordash, Joseph Redzinski and Joseph Pasbala of Dunbar township, aged 15 and 18 years, respectively, were given a hearing yesterday afternoon before Squire H. M. Smith of New Haven on a charge of disorderly conduct made by R. K. Smith of township, supervising principal of the Dunbar township schools.

The boys have been in the habit of loitering around the school house at night on their lay off day and of being very disorderly, annoying both the teachers and pupils.

The arrests were made by Constable William Reinold of Dunbar township. Mr. Smith is determined to break up the habit of young men loitering around the school houses throughout the township and if it does not cease other arrests will follow. In default of paying the fine and costs the defendants were committed to jail.

HASKELL IS NOT THE ONLY BURDEN.

Bryan Handicapped by Kerr's Corporation Connections.

GUFFEY MEN NOW LAUGHING.

With the Oklahoma Steam Roller Machine in Dispute and the New National Committeeman From This State Uncovered, the Pittsburgh Colonel Seems to Have Had His Revenge.

Pennsylvanians, both Republicans and Democrats, will be interested in disclosures made by a correspondent of the New York Sun regarding the corporation connections of Bryan's intimate friend, James Kerr, of Clearfield, Pa., whom he catapulted into the Democratic national committee at Denver after the Haskell steam roller, at Bryan's direction, had crushed out Colonel James M. Guffey, who had not only subscribed many thousands of dollars to Bryan's campaign funds, but also furnished free of cost the stained glass windows which adorn the Bryan household at Lincoln.

Haskell, owing to the exposure of his Standard Oil connections, has had to retire from the trusteeship of the Democratic national committee.

But Kerr still holds on.

Kerr and Corporation.

Here is what a New York Sun correspondent has just written about Mr. Kerr:

"To the accompaniment of the blare of trumpets and the waving of many flags, Colonel James M. Guffey, of Pennsylvania, was crowned at Denver as the undisputed sin of being a corporation man, and the spotless James Kerr was installed in his place as Democratic national committeeman from the Keystone state. Never mind the fact that Colonel Guffey was the selection by a large majority of the properly constituted delegation of Democrats in this state. The state is simply for Kerr anyway, and therefore personal animosities must be gratified while the ancient blare of trumpets is carried out.

"The Peerless Leader therefore smiled expansively and the faithful cohorts cheered for joy when the wicked Mr. Guffey was exiled and that well-known corporation hater, free from spot or blemish or any such thing, was presented faultless before the representatives of the downtrodden masses.

"But what is this we find? Upon taking up the Directory of Directors for the year 1907-08—a valuable roll of names, appropriately bound in red—we discover on page 347 the following entry:

"A Pretty Good List.
"Kerr, James, president and director Beech Creek Coal & Coke company, 17 Battery place.
"American Union Telephone company, Harrisburg, Pa., director.
"Automatic Coal & Weighing large company, of Delaware, president and director.
"Beach Creek Railroad company, director.
"Chester Creek Railroad company, director.
"Clearfield Manufacturing company, president and director.
"Clearfield Trust company, director.
"Commonwealth Coal & Coke company, president and director.
"Farmers' bank of Indiana, Pa., director.
"First National bank, Paton, Pa., director.
"Hooverhurst & Southwestern railroad, president and director.
"Frederick Glass company, president and director.
"National Corporation Securities company, president and director.
"New York Weighing Barge & Coal company, president and director.
"North River Coal & Wharf company, president and director.
"O Gara Coal company, director.
"Pennsylvania, Beech Creek & Western Coal company, president and director.
"Pennsylvania Coal & Coke company, director.
"Pennsylvania Construction & Investment company, president and director.
"Philadelphia Record, director.
"Putts Run Land company, president and director.

Looking Backward.

"As the late Hon. Henry Clay Harbaugh was wont feelingly to remark: 'Another fond hope shattered!'

"Can this exalted apostle of elvish lightness be the same James Kerr, who for years has shared with that other distinguished Democrat and one-time candidate for governor of New York, the Hon. John B. Stanchfield, the distinction—representable but unimpressive—of safeguarding the interests of the New York Central in the regions which lie between Geneva on the north and Williamsport on the south? Can this same Mr. Kerr be the famous defender of the 'people's' rights who in the organization of the New York Central's coal corporation, the 'Beech Creek Coal & Coke company,' sat in his office and 'created wealth' by signing up an artistic collection of common stock certificates which were not heavily weighed down by mere physical assets as equity thegifer?

"Alas! Alas! How are the mighty fallen and the weapons of war perished! IT IS TO LAUGH."

Taft to Farmers.

Pennsylvanians farmers will be interested in the speeches being made by Judge Taft in the west, especially his references to the beneficial results of the enforcement of the Republican policy of a protective tariff.

At Dodge City a sign had been placed on a grain elevator which read: "Wheat, 1908, 92 cents, Republican rule; wheat, 55 cents, Democratic rule."

"Taking notice of the sign, Mr. Taft said to his large audience:

"I have statistics a little more complete than that. The average price of corn in Kansas in '96, after four years of Democratic rule, was 38 cents per bushel. Now it is more than 44 cents per bushel. This Republican price of 44 cents for corn in Kansas gave to the farmers of Kansas for their corn crop of 1907 more than $40,000,000 in excess of what they would have received if they had sold at the Democratic price of 38 cents.

"With respect to wheat, in which I think this community is rather more interested than corn, the average price of wheat in Kansas for the four Democratic years was 49 cents per bushel. At present it is over 92 cents per bushel, and if your present wheat crop had been sold at Democratic prices it would have left you $21,000,000 less than you have today.

"For oats the Democratic price was 16 cents; for barley, 22 cents, and for potatoes, 27 cents, and for hay, $2.70 a ton. The Republican prices gave to the farmers of Kansas for the crop of oats, barley, potatoes and hay in 1907 over $18,000,000 in excess of what they would have received if they had sold those crops at the Democratic prices which prevailed all over Kansas in 1896, after the Democrats had run the government for four years.

Tariff Helped Farmer.

"You have increased the value of your horses over what you had in 1896 from about $16,000,000 to $26,000,000.

"The same is true of other stock. "Of course the argument is that this was not due to Democratic rule, but as a matter of fact, in Harrison's administration you had no such prices. You had them in Cleveland's administration, after the Gorman-Wilson tariff bill, and just as soon as the Republicans came in again and passed the Dingley bill, the prices began to rise. You had a good market and you have been prosperous ever since.

"I ask in heaven's name how sensible people can take the power out of the hands of the party that has made such prosperity possible and put it in the hands of a party whose record is what I have given."

Pennsylvanians farmers are keenly interested in this tariff agitation. The tobacco growers of Lancaster county all appreciate the fact that without the protection which two representatives in the United States senate give them in that body and a large majority of Republican representatives in the house command, they would be seriously handicapped.

The iron, coal, manufacturing and other important interests of the Keystone state would be similarly affected by any serious disturbance of present tariff conditions.

All admit that there must be tariff revision, but Pennsylvanians demand that this revision shall be done by Republican protectionists—not Democratic free traders.

FLIES FOR A QUEEN

Wilbur Wright Takes Noted Persons Aloft With Him.

Le Mans, France, Oct. 8.—The tests now being made by Wilbur Wright, the American aeronaut, continue to attract a large crowd of spectators, and that there is a large measure of confidence in Mr. Wright's work and his machine is evidenced by the fact that many of the most prominent officials gathered here to witness the trials are eager to take the passenger's seat in the aeroplane.

The aeronaut made several flights which were witnessed by Dogaer Queen Margherita of Italy, and among his passengers were Lieutenant General Baden-Powell of the British army, Count Serge Kouskoff, a chamberlain to the Russian emperor, Mme. Bolice and Commandant Bontoux, director of the military aerostatic park at Meudon.

During these flights, which were not of very great length, Mr. Wright kept his machine comparatively close to the ground, except the flight in which he carried Commandant Bontoux, when he ascended to a height of seventy-five feet. Later Mr. Wright was prevented by the dowager queen, who warmly congratulated him. A public subscription has been opened at Le Mans with the object of presenting a testimonial to Mr. Wright.

Here It Is Again

The Same Chance to Make 35 per cent. on Your Money as Offered Yesterday.

We told you yesterday how you would have an opportunity to make the above amount and how to secure your money in the meantime in the Citizens National Bank of Connellsville. These questions will naturally arise in your mind:

How do I know my money will be secure?

Because you will receive a Certificate of Deposit for your money in the Citizens National Bank of Connellsville, payable in one year if you do not wish to take stock in a company which will by that time have proved its earning capacity.

How do I know that this company is not a fake? Because you can come to Connellsville, go through the plant now in operation and see the goods manufactured.

How do I know the directors of this company are reliable and honest?

Because they are some of Fayette County's leading business men who can be seen any day in their places of business, and their reputation investigated.

There is a cause for everything. There is a cause why we can pay this dividend. If you want some of it send your deposit at once to Citizens National Bank, Connellsville, and get a deposit slip. After a year when this company has proven itself either recall your money or purchase stock and secure your dividend. Those wishing to make immediate investment are invited to investigate.

INVESTIGATE AND YOU WILL INVEST.

HUGHES MEETS ANONYMOUS FOE.

Handbills Attacking Him Scattered Among His Audience.

GOVERNOR'S ANGER AROUSED.

Declares That if His Motives Can Be Successfully Aspersed After His Services as Governor Then There Is No Use Trying to Serve the People.

Wichita, Kan., Oct. 8.—"Vote for Mr. Bryan's new proposals and you will support the next of line, the hell-at-law, the very twin of Mr. Bryan's old law-politician."

This assertion was made by Governor Hughes of New York to the voters of Kansas in a speaking tour in the state that culminated at Wichita. Governor Hughes spoke a night to farmers, railroad operators and business men.

At Herkington, Kan., after leaving St. Joseph, Mo., Governor Hughes, pointing his finger at a crowd of workmen, declared: "Don't let anybody tell you that Mr. Taft is not the friend of labor. Mr. Taft has done more for labor than has any of his opponents. While his opponents have been indulging in new policies gotten up to catch your fancy the Republican candidate has had his coat off and with sleeves rolled up has been tackling some of the hardest jobs that ever confronted this country."

When the governor arrived in Wichita the announcements for his reception read: "Mr. Hughes will be welcomed by a callop, four brass bands, citizens on horseback and a few on foot."

Before the arrival of Governor Hughes at Topeka handbills opposing Mr. Taft and mentioning the New York governor had been distributed in the crowd. It was not indicated on the handbills by whose authority they had been circulated. Governor Hughes said: "While going through the middle west talking to the people on the issues of this campaign I have not indulged in personal abuse, nor have I made any reflection upon the motives or character of our opponents. Now I find myself followed by efforts to create prejudice by scurrilous insinuations. When I was nominated for governor of New York I had my flag to the mast and there it has been floating over since. I stood for favors to none and justice to all. I stood against every form of special privilege at the expense of the public welfare. I stood against every effort to prevent the machinery of government to selfish purposes. As soon as I was inducted into office I prepared a plan for the effective regulation of our public service corporations to prevent depredations and public wrongdoing. The reactionary forces of New York, everybody that is desirous to have license to prey on the people, are trying to down me and rebuke my administration."

"If after the toll and work of the last two years, it is possible successfully to asperse my motives and official action there is no use in trying to serve the people."

Hamden Junction, O., Oct. 8.—Milton West, a well-known Jackson county farmer, dropped dead while preparing to hitch up a team of horses.

DONOVAN, WHOSE PITCHING SAVED THE PENNANT FOR DETROIT TIGERS.

"Wild Bill" Donovan of the Detroit Tigers is the hero of the American League, for his shut-out of the Chicagoans in the final game of the season won the pennant for his team. He had his opponents under control from the opening of the game, allowing only two hits, and the White Sox got only three men on bases. Donovan is one of the pitching marvels of the decade. In a recent game with Washington, he pitched only ten balls in one inning, yet struck out three batters. More remarkable still, only one of the ten balls was struck at.

PENNANT GOES TO WINDY CITY.

Manager Chance of the Chicago Team Makes Three of the Eight Hits Scored by His Men—Great Multitude Attends the Game.

New York, Oct. 9.—(Chicago, 4; New York, 2.) This was the tale in a phrase told at the end of the most decisive baseball game played in this country in many years, played at the Polo grounds in this city to decide the National league championship for the season of 1903.

The game was played before a vast concourse which carried with them to the Polo grounds the pent-up enthusiasm, hopes and fears accumulated day by day in the closing weeks of a season's fight for a National league pennant which had been absolutely unprecedented for constantly intensifying interest and uncertainty. At dusk the great multitude departed from the historic inclosure hushed and disappointed.

Manager McGraw's words after the uneventful quiet of the training quarters where the Giants were having their last showers and rubdowns emphasized the feelings of the vast army of New York's followers: "I do not feel badly about the game; we merely lost something we had won before." Fair or not, this appears to be the view generally obtaining in Greater New York.

Giants Are Outplayed. It was great baseball, witnessed by the greatest of great baseball crowds which would have been here had doubled could the fences have been stretched out into a circle of sufficient size to include all those who had clamored vainly for admittance and who thronged everything that offered the least possibility of catching even an echo of the applause within. Spectators who know the game, however, better they may feel over the decision which made the game compulsory, seem to concede that vast army of the Chicago team was practically perfect.

The Giants, well though they played, were outplayed. They lacked, among other things, that certain indefinable something, absence of which is probably in this instance explained by the results of the great and steady strain they have been under the past week. Chicago, fresh from rest and well-fought practice and coaching, was superb in form. Brilliant, errorless fielding, snappy base running and opportunity hitting won the game. New York could not hit at critical times. Mathewson, the great "Matty," favorite of the favorites, could not keep his invincible arm power and the effect of a moment's lapse in that third inning could not be overcome. McGraw's substitution of Wilkie in the box the last two innings may or may not have been wise. The home team needed a long hit, needed the tremendous rallying power with which Mathewson has more than once inspired them at the very finish and wrong victory from seeming defeat.

Chicago Wins in Third Inning. The two great innings of the game were the third and the seventh. In the former Chicago made all its runs. In the latter—opening with tremendous enthusiasm following the loud-shouted slogan, "The Giants' lucky seventh"—hopes were renewed, but died, after one run, which kept company with that made in the first inning on the mammoth bulletin board far out of field.

In the third Tinker's beautiful three-bagger to deep center started the run getting for Chicago. Kling then singled to left, and Tinker came home amid great cheering, in which even the New York partisans could not withhold a well-deserved participation. Brown grounded out to Tenney, advancing Kling to second. Shueckard flied to Seymour, who made a spectacular throw, holding Kling on second. Then Evers went to first on balls—the first and only walk allowed the visitors by Mathewson. Schulte then doubled to left, scoring Kling, and Chance's two-bagger to right scored Evers and Schulte. Steinfort struck out. These were Chicago's four runs, the visitors got no more, but they were enough.

Giants Rally Futile. In the seventh Donlin singled to left center and McCormick hit safely to right for a base. Then Bridwell got a base on balls and all the sacks were taken. Here was where everybody held their breath. At this critical juncture, when suspense actuated the silence, Manager McGraw sent Doyle to bat for Mathewson. Great cheers broke forth for it meant that Mathewson would pitch no more in this game. Doyle failed to fill the bill. He sent up a nice little pop foul which fell into the clutches of Catcher Kling and that ended Doyle. To be sure Devilbiss scored on Tenney's fly to Schulte, but Herzer went out, Tinker to Chance, and the seventh was over.

The Championship Schedule. Cincinnati, Oct. 9.—Beginning at 2 o'clock Saturday, Oct. 10, the baseball teams of Chicago and Detroit, which have just won the closest recorded contest for the championship of the National and the American leagues, will meet at Detroit to enter on a series of games for the baseball championship of the world. But one game will be played at Detroit before the season closes. The Sunday and Monday contests go to Chicago, while the Tuesday and Wednesday games are to be played at Detroit, and the sixth game, if one is necessary, will be transferred to Chicago.

The National baseball commission will be in charge, but the immediate control of the games is given to two umpires from each league. For the National league umpires O'Day and Klein were designated by President Putnam, while President Johnson of the American league named Sheridan and Connolly to represent his organization.

Plenty of Warm Bed Coverings at Little Prices.

ALL OF THEM MADE IN SANITARY FACTORIES

Of utmost importance to you is that little sentence "made in a sanitary factory," especially in the buying of bed coverings. The coverings we offer are all bought directly from the maker. Our buyer visits the factory. He sees just where and how they're made. He knows exactly what the "filling" of the coverings are, he knows how thoroughly shrunken are the yarns that compose these luxurious blankets of wool and just how cleanly are the conditions surrounding the making of them all. They cost you no more here than elsewhere and you know positively that you do not risk the health of your family by the purchase of bed coverings made in uncleanly sweatshops where precaution against disease is unknown.

Handsome New Voile Skirts

Gored circular and pleated models, in black voile skirts, and voile still seems to hold undisputed sway in the skirt world. Skirts this season are more diversified in style than formerly. Directoire modes have given the designer more latitude and the outcome is a presentation of styles and adaptation from directoire models that is confusing in its diversity. More or less elaboration is to be found in the designing of even these black skirts large crocheted buttons and bands of taffeta, others are self-trimmed in a like manner. Every model features a style innovation that relegates the skirt you have to the old clothes bag. You'll realize how radical has been the fashion change when we show you some of the new and striking models that embody all of the new features of skirt construction.
